

Indigenous Seed Collection Workshop

Supported by Australian Government's Communities Environment Program.

The Yarrowee Leigh Catchment Group is giving you the opportunity to learn about the concepts of indigenous seed collection and how to prepare seeds for propagation. This workshop will give you an understanding on how to collect seeds from plants that grow in your local area. All members of the community are welcome to attend this event.

Thursday 11th March 2021

Brown Hill Hotel

9:00am – 12:00pm. (Lunch provided)

Free Event

Guest Presenter: Dan Frost

Key topics

- Best time of the year to collect seeds from different species in your area
- Seed collection methods
- Seed extraction methods
- Seed treatments prior to propagation
- Learn about local trees species and how they grow

RSVP is essential to ensure we can run a COVIDsafe event. Covid-19 restrictions will apply. Please RSVP Nick McKinley, Leigh Catchment Group on 0455 147 398 or nick@leighcatchmentgroup.org